ence of more severe symptoms of gastric trouble. Her Majesty's condition is causing some anxiety. Queen Elizabeth II and other members of the royal family were informed of the worsened condition of the old lady who has been confined to her bedroom since the last week in February. It has long been understood in court circles that once a formal bulletin was posted it would be a sign her illness had become serious.

The doctors' statement today again referred to "gastric trouble." It was reported by reliable sources that a diagnosis of a liver ailment was made.

BY JACK V. FOX
LONDON (UP) — Dowager Queen Mary, the grand old lady of the British Commonwealth, has suffered an internal hemorrhage and her heart action is weakening seriously. It was disclosed today. The physicians of the 85-year-old grandmother of Queen Elizabeth II fear she may not live through the day.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, spiritual head of the Church of England, was summoned to her bedside after it became evident that her condition was desperate. Other members of the royal family, including the Duke of Windsor, her favorite son, and Princess Mary, the princess royal, only daughter, gathered at her old brick mansion, Marlborough house on the Mall.

Queen Elizabeth, whom the old lady used to hold in her arms as an infant, waited a call to the bedside from nearby Buckingham Palace where she was working on state papers.

the hospital. He can't eat half a dozen patients in the hospital in the time it takes him to make one home call.

Well, who wants to go to a hospital with a sore throat? Once they get you on your back they might try to sell you an ulcer.

So you argue with salt water and plod weakly to work.

At the office you feel sure of some sympathy. But what happens? When one of the other hired hand remarks you look a bit peaked, you pass limply at your coffee and muffin.

"Ugh, a throat, a sore, a cough." A look of intense science spreads over his face.

"I'mm. It's probably psychosomatic. Probably whom?"

"Psychosomatic. Most lils now are both physical and mental in origin. Have you been feeling frustrated lately?"

"Certainly I've been feeling frustrated lately. Do you think I'm crazy? Anybody who isn't frustrated is nuts."

"Ah, that's just it. You probably said something you are sorry for. And subconsciously you are expressing your resentment at your boss. That is why it is so. If you will just face up to your real problem like a man, the sorrows will go away."

"Never mind my sore throat," you reply. "Why don't you go away?"

But you are afraid to mention your sore throat to anyone else, for fear he will diagnose it as a bottled-up urge to bite your mother-in-law.

The truth is that everybody to day has the muddled idea that sickness is unhealthy. That takes away all the fun and gives you a guilt complex. When you feel bad now, all you can do is wait silently until you feel better — or do on your feet, still grimly proclaiming, "there's nothing wrong with me, mon."

The rise carried in around a point at the best with the great bulk of the advance in the smaller fractions. Losses were rather frequent, but they were small and didn't disturb the flat too much.

A feature of trading was the heavy demand at strong prices for Willy-Overland common and preferred and Kaiser-Frazer common after details of a proposed merger were published.

to utilize existing bases such as the one at Hope before building new ones.

Congress appropriated 26 million dollars last year for preliminary construction of the Little Rock base. The project now is being reviewed along with most other military construction programs under an economy program launched by President Eisenhower.

"Our fight isn't against Little Rock — it's for economy," said Mayor Wilson at the conclusion of the interview with the Air Force yesterday.

The Hope base was built during World War II to test heavy bombs at a nearby proving grounds.

The Hope delegation includes Wilson, Ben Owens and Ray Lawrence of the Chamber of Commerce and J. I. Liebling, member of the Republican State Committee.

"We anticipated the attitude of the Air Force," Wilson said. "We are prepared to show how the government can save several millions."

Two Yanks Call Shells on Own Heads

By STAN CARTER

WESTERN FRONT, Korea (UP) — Two unrattled Americans sat huddled in a "damn good bunker" surrounded by Red Chinese last night and called thousands of rounds of artillery down on their own heads.

They were saved today when dawn broke over the battered top of Pork Chop Hill. The Reds were gone or dead.

The two men were Lt. Allen Craig, 24, of New Orleans, and Sgt. William A. Cox of Mill Valley, Calif., — were buried five hours while the artillery shells blasted all around them.

Dozens of Chinese died in the hail of fire, officers said. Felger is a forward artillery observer and Cox is a communications man.

They were with 10 other American soldiers in a bunker on the highest point of the Northwest part of Pork Chop Hill when the Chinese attacked Seventh Division troops on Pork Chop, T-Bone and Old Baldy Hills.

"I was looking out of the aperture of the bunker," Felger said. "I heard them coming up the front of the hill, but I couldn't see them, the night was so black. They were firing burp guns. They came up pretty quick."

"The Chinks started shelling us. A round came in the aperture of the bunker. After the smoke cleared we saw three bodies. Somebody said, 'Let's get out of here.'"

"The rest—everybody but Cox and myself took off but the door. They were just a hop, skip and jump ahead of the Chinese. Later, after I got out, I heard that some were all right. Some I don't know about."

"The two of us, Cox and I, decided it would be better to stay in the bunker. There were just us and the three dead men."

"The Chinese overran us. They opened the door and three times they let go with burp guns and sprayed the inside. I don't know why neither of us were hit. We didn't have any weapons. Everything got lost when that round came in the aperture. I was in the corner looking for a pistol when they sprayed the inside."

"I heard the Chinks talking on the outside. They got into our trenches dug us out. We had radio contact all the time. I had two transmitters. Thousands, it seems like, rounds were falling on the top of our bunker. They were firing 700 rounds a minute — our guns were."

"The artillery fire closed the door of the bunker most of the way. Both apertures were completely closed."

"We had a damn good bunker. It was the only one left on Pork Chop after the battle. I don't know how many rounds hit it."

"We were buried there from about 10 o'clock. Just before daylight I heard the Americans outside. They dug us out."

Felger said, "I thought the bunker would cave in any moment. Before it was sealed, I was praying the Chinks would not throw a grenade in the door."

Maj. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau, commander of the Seventh Division, said he thought Felger deserved the Distinguished Service Cross.

"He kept talking over the radio, directing the artillery all night long," Trudeau said.

VAN BUREN (UP) — Six small children, who lost their parents in 1938, now are without the 14-year-old "big sister" who has been caring for them.

Wanda Blount was fatally injured yesterday when she fell from a moving truck filled with spinach cutters. Sheriff C. B. Bushmiller said Wanda and several others were thrown out when the half-ton truck's tailgate collapsed. The others were hurt slightly.

The sheriff said the girl's parents died in 1938. Since then, her father has lived with her younger brothers and a sister in a house next door to an older brother, J. D. Blount, and several blocks away from the home of the children's uncle and guardian, Bill Blount.

The sheriff quoted the guardian as saying last night that "it's possible we'll have to put a couple of the younger children in a home."

News Briefs

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — The Arkansas Electric Co-operative Corp., yesterday petitioned the Arkansas Supreme Court for a rehearing on the proposed construction of a steam electric generating plant at Ozark, Ark.

The court recently ruled that construction of the proposed 10 million dollar plant by the Co-operative would violate both state and federal public power laws.

WASHINGTON (UP) — Earl Browder, deposed in 1946 as U. S. Communist party chief, was billed as leadoff witness today in a new investigation of the State Department by Sen. McCarthy (R Wis.).

WEST MEMPHIS (UP) — Don H. Stalls Sr., 62, postmaster at Turley, Ark., for nearly 20 years, died today, at Crittenden Memorial Hospital here.

FRANKFURT, Germany (UP) — A Czechoslovak "freedom airliner" with 29 persons aboard escaped through the Iron Curtain last night and took refuge at the U. S. air-base here.

An official American statement said the flight captain and "some of the passengers" planned the escape. They requested political asylum immediately upon landing.

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Moore's Inc., of Fayetteville yesterday filed for articles of incorporation with the secretary of state's office here. Authorized capital was listed at $100,000.

Incorporators are: Bryce M. Moore and Westcott Moore of Fayetteville and Mertis M. Alford of Roswell, N. M.

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Failure of state correctional institutions to rehabilitate juvenile delinquents was attacked by a panel of social and welfare workers here today.

The panel was composed of delegates to the Southwest Regional American Public Welfare Association Conference.

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (UP) — Former President Harry S. Truman, a "meat and potatoes" man, appeared vintage wines and nibbled on rare delicacies last night as the honor guest of the Republican-dominated Beverly Hills Wine and Food Society.

The reception and dinner, held aboard the liner President Cleveland, took place on the eve of Mr. Truman's departure for Hawaii on a month's vacation with wife Bess and daughter Margaret. Despite the ex-president's warning that he was a "meat and potatoes" man, the gourmets laid a table of calorie crammed tastes and priceless wines brought here from across both oceans for the occasion.

Williams Brooks estate, last week. But estate attorney, Bernal Seamster, said the total was predicated on a $5-a-bushel price for the disputed cottonseed and the heirs want $7.50. The Commission also disregarded the claim for interest on the total amount.

Seamster filed a motion for a rehearing before the Commission yesterday.

The claim originally was filed after Brooks lent a new type cotton seed in 1919 to the Penitentiary under an agreement that the prison would plant it, harvest it and replace the seed at the end of the season. The crop was heavily damaged by rain, the seed was not repaid and Brooks or his heirs have been trying to collect for the seed for 35 years.

The Claims Commission announced last week that the case was settled.

Court Asked to Block Race Track Issue

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — The Anti Race Track League yesterday appealed to the Arkansas Supreme Court to set aside an election for a proposed horse race track in St. Francis County.

The clerk of the Supreme Court said the appeal was filed in the name of Homer Towns, an official of the League, against Fred McCullough and others. The court will hear oral arguments in the case April 6.

Chancery Judge A. L. Hutchins last Saturday dismissed a League suit to stop the election. The County Board of Election Commissioners then set April 21 for the election. McCullough is connected with the board.

The suit brought by the League charged that some 170 signatures on the 57 election petitions filed by the St. Francis Valley Turf Association were invalid.

Promoters of the race track are headed by Robert J. Bolleau, the same man who last year lost an attempt to build a swank Dixie Downs at West Memphis, Ark. Crittenden County voters rejected the track at the polls.

A new State Racing Commission, appointed by Gov. Francis Cherry, has refused to open a bid by the St. Francis Valley Turf Association for the new track, and has indicated that it will not open the bid until ordered to do so by the courts.

A Racing Commission serving under former Gov. Sid McMath asked for the bids late last year. McMath promptly fired the commission, and appointed a new one. The second McMath commission refused to recognize the action of its predecessor. The General Assembly then abolished the Commission, and established a new one, giving Cherry the right to appoint his own commissioners.

'Wryneck' Child May Need Surgery

By FRANK CAREY, AP Science Reporter

ST. LOUIS (AP)—If you child appears to have a "wryneck," he may need surgery of the eye rather than the neck, an Omaha eye specialist said today.

Dr. H. Hewitt Judd told the annual meeting of the American Academy of General Practice that some children who have defects in muscles controlling the vertical motion of an eye resort to tilting their heads in order to "level" their eyes.

"This may lead to structural body changes, such as a high shoulder or twisting of the spinal column," he said, adding.

"Some cases have been diagnosed as congenital wryneck and have had the neck muscles cut. Before such an operation is performed in these cases, the child's eyes should be examined by an ophthalmologist for a vertical muscle imbalance."

Roads and buildings have been damaged in the Glia National Forest in southwestern Mexico.

DOROTHY DIX

Cerebral Palsy Victim

Dear Miss Dix: I am a cerebral palsy victim, 23 years old. For many years I had difficulty with my speech and trouble getting around, but though I still need some help, I have been able to overcome most of my handicaps. My mother has been largely responsible for my independence. I still have one trouble, however, that is hard to overcome.

People who don't understand cerebral palsy too well are inclined to offer help and suggestions that I don't need. For some reason, this sends me into a hysterical rage. I know their intentions are good, and when I have time to reflect, I realize how bad my behavior was, but at the time I can't control it.

My mother has taught me to make my own decisions, not to lean on others for aid, and has tried to teach me to control my temper—but in this last respect I haven't been entirely successful. At home I have no trouble in this way, but when I am visiting I resent the fact that people try to assist me. I am a high-school graduate, belong to clubs and feel that everyone should know I can take care of myself.

Answer: God has certainly blessed you with a wonderful mother, and I'm sorry your entire letter couldn't be published as a tribute to her. It would be almost impertinent for anyone to add to the advice she gives you.

It is only natural that you should resent the assumption that you are incapable of making your own decisions, and caring for yourself, but as your mother points out, people who haven't had direct contact with a cerebral palsy victim will have a tendency to believe you need help. Combatting this general opinion is another one of the handicaps you must overcome.

Condescending Pity

It would be a fine thing if the general public could be educated to use more wisdom in dealing with the handicapped. Good intentions generally dictate an attitude of condescending pity and a desire to baby the afflicted one. This is the wrong tack to take; in all things independence should be encouraged, rather than suppressed. Instead of flying into a rage, Peggy, when preferred help lags, you, I say you have been trained to decide and act for yourself. Your mother has painstakingly brought you to the point where your independence can be a source of inspiration to anyone laboring under a handicap. Try to be a credit to

McClellan Against Delay of Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration plan to elevate the Federal Security Agency to a Cabinet rank department continues its swift course through Congress.

The Senate Government Operations Committee approved it yesterday in the form in which the House passed it last week. In so doing, the committee went beyond the report of its own subcommittee, which had approved the plan but had taken no action on special provision to make it effective in 10 instead of 60 days. The measure now goes to the Senate incorporating the speedup provision.

Final committee approval was unanimous, but one vote was cast against the 10-day provision—that of Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), who said he thought the speedup would "set a bad precedent."

Senate to Get Short Easter Recess

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate will get only a short Easter recess: from Thursday, April 2, to Monday, April 6.

That decision was made yesterday by the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

The House plans to take a week longer, from April 2 until April 13.

For 100 years Presidents elected at 20 year intervals have died in office—William Henry Harrison, 1840; Lincoln, 1860; Garfield, 1880; McKinley, 1900; Harding, 1920 and Roosevelt, 1940.

WHAT INCRIMINATES?

It is lawful to be a member of the Communist Party. No person commits a felony or even a misdemeanor when he joins such a party. It is lawful to be an officer of this party, although each individual is responsible for his actions. Each individual is always responsible for his personal conduct. Freedom does not lessen responsibility.

It is difficult to understand why so many American citizens before Congressional committees take refuge under the Fifth Amendment on the ground that to admit membership in the Communist Party would incriminate them. Of what crime? More membership is no crime. Why then should membership be an incrimination?

Take for instance this colloquy before the McCarthy Committee: "The Chairman: ... At the time that you were a professor at Columbia University, were you a member of the Communist Party?" "Mr. Donald Henderson: I must refuse to answer that question on the grounds that it may tend to incriminate me, sir."

The Chairman: We have been having considerable testimony in regard to Mr. Reed Harris, who attended Columbia at the time you did. Let me ask you this. At the time Mr. Reed Harris and three others spoke at a meeting objecting to your being removed from the faculty at Columbia, were you then a member of the Communist Party?

"Mr. Henderson: I must refuse to answer that question on the same grounds, sir."

Why? Precisely why should these questions lead to incrimination? If Mr. Henderson and Harris were not members of the Communist Party, the simple answer could be, No. If they were members, the answer could be, Yes without further ado. If they were members and answered No, then perjure would be committed, but why should a man perjure himself when there is no crime of any kind to be a member of this organization?

Senator McCarthy asked Donald Henderson: "Do you honestly feel that if you were to tell this committee the truth as to whether Reed Harris was a member of the Communist Party at that time, that might tend to incriminate you?"

To this, Henderson answered: "As I understand the Fifth Amendment, it is a protection for me, and it is not an accusation against anybody else."

This is altogether true, but it is not understandable how Henderson thought he was protecting anyone by refusing to tell what he knew about Harris, even to the extent of saying that he knew nothing about him or that what he knew was favorable.

Unless a man has committed a crime, about which he knows but no one else knows, he cannot incriminate himself by saying that he had committed no crime. Most of us do not commit crimes. Therefore, when he refuses to answer (taking refuge under the Fifth Amendment), he gives the impression of knowing that he might be incriminating himself, while no one is accusing him of anything. It looks bad for him.

To ask a man whether he happens to be a member of the Republican, Democratic, or Communist Party is not to accuse him of a crime. The example of the late Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, who was a member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, might be cited as an example of how obviously these men think. This is a simple colloquy:

"Mr. Jackson: Were you ever a member of the German-American Bund?" "Mr. Murray: No, sir."

"Mr. Jackson: Were you a member of the Silver Shirts?" "Mr. Murray: No, sir."

"Mr. Jackson: Were you a member of the Communist Party?" "Mr. Murray: I refuse to answer that on the grounds I have stated before."

Why can he give a direct No answer to the questions concerning Silver Shirts? But he takes refuge under the Fifth Amendment and refuses to answer when it comes to the Communist Party? If to answer about the German-American Bund and the Silver Shirts does not incriminate, why should an answer concerning the Communist Party incriminate?

The logic of that position is not convincing. (Copyright 1953, Edgar Enterprises Syndicate, Inc.)

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — The University of Arkansas' golf team suffered a 17 1/2 shellacking at the hands of Oklahoma A & M here yesterday.

Only Razorback to score was Miller Barber, who was beaten, 2 1/2-1/2, by Joe Walser of the Aggies.

Less Injuries in Spring Training

NEW YORK (AP) — Maybe the players are getting tougher, or perhaps they are taking better care of themselves these days. In any event, the spring training injury list this year has been microscopic. Furthermore, most of the injuries have been minor.

A check of the major league camps by the Associated Press today showed just 3 players have suffered injuries directly attributable to spring training — 17 in the National and 21 in the American.

This is a far cry from the days when the managers fear to take their teams to camp, so many broken bones, fractures and other assorted ailments showed up.

The Detroit Tigers, who already have been called by the experts, have the heaviest list — seven. The most serious was a broken finger suffered by Third Baseman Eddie Kozak when he was hit by Max Burkout of the Milwaukee Braves and a sprained ankle sustained by Shortstop Harvey Kuenn.

The other five all were pitchers. And all were sore arms.

Only the Boston Red Sox have not listed a single ailment, and Lou Boudreau has the oldest team, in point of age, in the majors.

The world champion New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers, seeking their second straight

UAW Plans Fight Against Communists

By GLENN ENGLE
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Leaders of the CIO United Auto Workers readied a new war against Communism and its sympathizers within the union's 1,300,000 membership.
A constitutional amendment prepared for presentation to the UAW's international convention would make it easier to prove a member is a Communist and thus ineligible to hold office in the union.
The anti-Communist drive was one of the first to be launched by the UAW since its merger with the International Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America in 1942.
But it has found it difficult to prove, under the present provision that any particular member is a Communist or subversive to the party.
The new provision, whose details were not disclosed before presentation to the convention, would make the proof easier. However, it still would not oust Communists or sympathizers from membership — but only from office.
As the convention went into its second day it became apparent that tightening of the anti-Communist provision would be one of three major issues to come up.
The others will be:
1. The formal launching of the UAW's campaign for a guaranteed annual wage in 1955.
2. The marshaling of support of the nearly 3,000 delegates behind the union's demand that the auto industry revise the current five-year contract to meet inflationary developments since they were signed in 1950.
UAW President Walter P. Reuther, who hinted strongly that the union wouldn't hesitate to strike if necessary to win either the annual wage or the current contract revision.

Russians Still Playing for Time

By PHIL NEWSOM
UP Foreign News Editor
It would be nice if we could take at face value the recent various Russian "peace" moves.
But, pending further developments and on the basis of the record, we must assume the Reds still are playing for time.
The latest Russian overtures did not start with Premier Georgi M. Malenkov, but did in fact start while Stalin was alive and, apparently, in good health.
Conciliatory Russian gestures have covered a wide field, ranging from offers to negotiate difficulties in the air over Germany to officially approved suggestions that Malenkov would welcome a meeting with President Eisenhower.
Russian sources in the United Nations have let it be known that Vice Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky may return to the U. N.

from Moscow with a new peace proposal for Korea.
All very fine, except that had it not been for Red aggression and earlier failures to live up to agreements, we would not have nearly so many problems to negotiate as we do have now.
It is doubtful if even the most profound experts would attempt to be bold enough to forecast what now is the Kremlin mind.

However, a basic theory of Communism is that an eventual clash between Communism and Capitalism is inevitable.
Therefore, any Russian "peace" moves now would seem to be a play for time — as the heisters say, "just you wait and see." —

A recent United Nations Economic Survey indicated that the Russians need until 1960 to bring their economy to a point equal to or superior to that of Western Europe. —

GOP Plans to Let the RFC Die June 30

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and GOP congressional leaders agreed today to let the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC) die June 30, 1954.
That is the date the government's big lending agency is due to go out of business under present law. Some congressmen want the RFC to be abolished at the end of this year.
Congressional leaders said liquidation of the agency already is under way.
The decision was announced by House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) after the congressional leaders' Monday morning conference with the president.
Martin said about 50 per cent of the RFC officers throughout the country will be closed within 60 days.
The small loan functions of the RFC, he said, probably will be transferred to some other government agency. Details will be worked out by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Secretary of Commerce Weeks, Martin added.
Meanwhile, he said, RFC will grant no loans over one million dollars.

Taxpayers Pouring Money into U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Taxpayers are pouring money into the U. S. treasury at a faster clip this year than last, but officials say it's too early to tell whether this will trim an expected deficit.
As of March 18, the latest day reported, federal revenues so far in the year ending June 30 totaled nearly 47 billion dollars. That's about five billion more than recorded for a like period last year.
The 47 billion is still a long way from the $68,700,000,000 total the Truman administration estimated would come in this fiscal year.
However, the flow of tax revenue is expected to increase. Government spending, meanwhile, has stepped up because of defense outlays.

Repatriates Arrive in Japan

By JIM BECKER

MAIZURU, Japan (AP) — A second repatriation ship, Takasago Maru, arrives today from Shanghai with 1,000 Japanese nationals stranded in China since the end of World War II.

The first group of 1,000 men, women and children arrived in a jelling rain early today from Chingwangtao, Manchuria, aboard the Koan Maru.

By midsummer, some 25,000 Japanese — some held as long as 18 years — are scheduled to be repatriated from China.

Swarms of newsmen who boarded the Koan Maru today from fishing launches heard conflicting stories of life in Communist China.

Some returnees wept for joy at the sight of their homeland. Others defiantly spouted Red propaganda.

However, Mayor Tasuo Segawa of Maizuru, who met the ship, said the passengers were the most orderly group yet to arrive at this huge repatriation center from a Communist country.

Some glowered, closemouthed. A few showed and pushed the only two Americans in the press party.

Some described Red China as a paradise; others told of being driven at pistol point to work in Communist factories.

Almost all said Red China was conducting a successful war against germs and flies.

Some said the Communists taught them that South Korea invaded North Korea and that U. S. troops are waging germ warfare in Korea. They blamed the U. S. for the breakdown of truce talks.

The Japanese said they acquired these beliefs in study groups which met in factories, offices and rural districts.

WILD SHELLS

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — The United Nations command today acknowledged two Allied shells fell by mistake in the neutral Panmunjom truce area two weeks ago but told protesting Communists they invited such incidents by establishing positions next to the zone.
Col. Willard Carlock, U. N. liaison officer, said no casualties or damage resulted from the wild shells.

Byrnes Takes Blame for UN Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — James F. Byrnes said today he alone was responsible for the policy, when he was secretary of state, that the State Department would make no recommendations as to Americans applying for jobs with the United Nations.

In a letter to a House Judiciary subcommittee, Byrnes denied specifically that Alger Hiss had anything to do with formulating this policy.

Byrnes, now governor of South Carolina, was secretary of state from July, 1945, to January, 1947. Hiss, an employee of the State Department during this time, has since been convicted of perjury (lying when under oath) for denying he passed secret information to a Communist spy ring.

Byrnes said his policy decision was reached in the light of conditions "as they then existed." It did not bind his successors if changing conditions made other action appropriate, he added.

The subcommittee has been looking into reports of subversive character among Americans on the U. N. payroll, and into alleged interference by the State and Justice Departments with a New York federal grand jury's inquiry into subversives and the U. N.

The subcommittee solicited a statement from Byrnes in connection with testimony by then Secretary of State Dean Acheson last Dec. 31 that he had inherited from Byrnes a State Department policy against recommending U. N. job seekers or screening them for loyalty.

George Washington was the only President of the United States who never lived in Washington, D. C.

Election of the president of the United States has been thrown into the House of Representatives and there decided in two instances, Jefferson and John Quincy Adams.
